

Dear Tamarron Neighbors,

My name is Tricia Layfield, and I'm honored to announce my candidacy for the Tamarron Association of Condominium Owners (TACO) Board of Directors.

Tamarron is a truly special place with its breathtaking natural surroundings, the comforts of a year-round resort community and great residents. I am proud to have called Tamarron home for the past six and a half years as a full-time resident.

I am running for the board because I care deeply about preserving and enhancing the value, beauty, and livability of this one-of-a-kind place. I want to be a strong, steady voice for homeowners and help ensure that decisions are made with fairness, transparency, and with the long-term health of our community in mind.

Professionally, I worked as a career nurse and medical office manager, overseeing a six-physician practice and managing a hospice care team. My work focused on patient relations, often in areas like infertility and end-of-life care, where people were facing some of the most vulnerable times in their lives. In those roles, I was responsible for regulatory compliance (including OSHA), policy implementation, staffing, budgeting, and resolving conflict with empathy and clarity. I'm highly organized, detail-oriented, and calm in crisis—and I take pride in getting things done before being asked. Dependability, to me, is a core value.

For the past two years, I've volunteered on Tamarron's Rules & Regulations Committee. One of my main goals as a board member would be to continue updating and refining our Rules and Regulations to reflect the evolving needs of our diverse community. Tamarron is unique in that we're home to full-time residents, second-homeowners, and vacation guests—and it's important that we maintain shared standards that protect our property values, preserve our amenities, and foster a harmonious living environment.

While I don't love speaking in large groups, I'm a vocal advocate in the rooms where it matters. I listen carefully, seek out different perspectives, and work hard to find practical, balanced solutions. I'm also friendly, honest, direct, and genuinely committed to the well-being of our community.

I would be honored to represent you on the TACO Board of Directors and to continue giving back to a place that means so much to me. Thank you for your time, your consideration, and most of all—for being a part of what makes Tamarron such a wonderful place to call home.

Warmly,
Tricia Layfield
