

Tamarroon

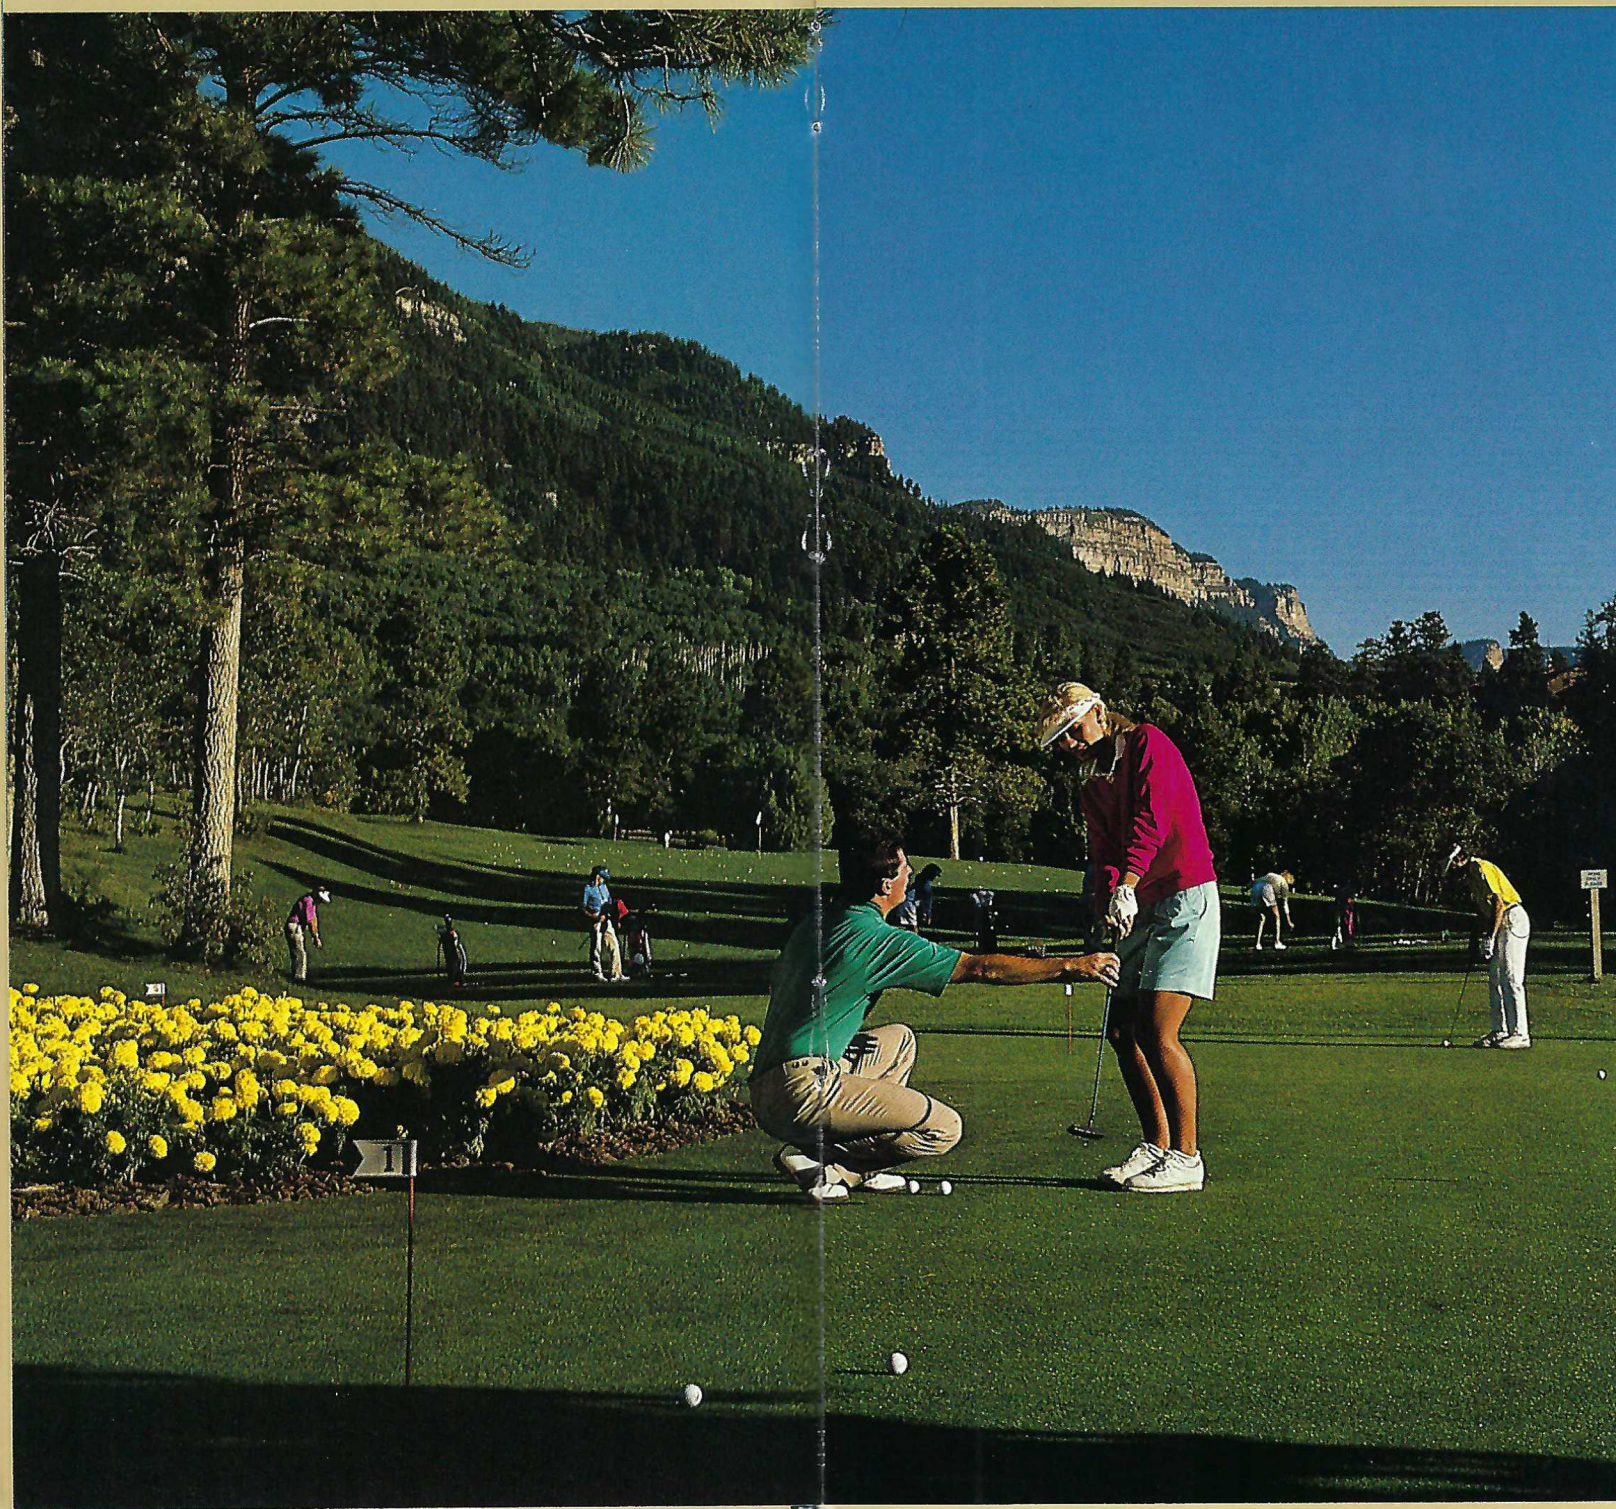

THE RESORT

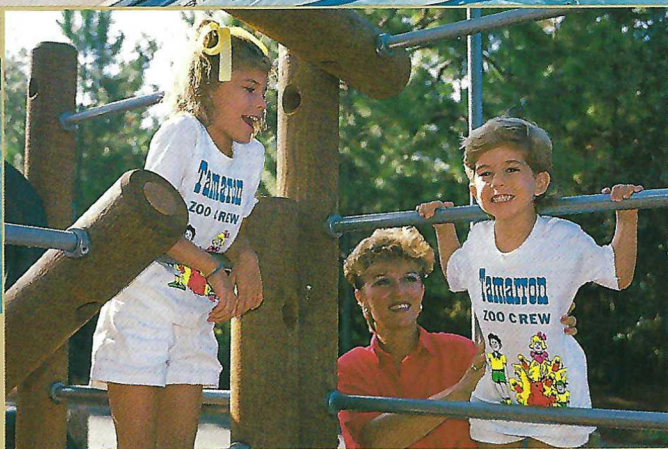

They call it Four Corners Country. Because it's where, uniquely, four states come together: Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah. Here centuries ago, spurs jingling, breastplates and helmets flashing in the sun, Spanish caballeros rode up from the south in search of silver and gold. Later came the homesteaders, the pioneers, the railroad men. And named their new settlement Durango. Today, just 18 miles north of this historic town in Colorado's spectacular San Juan Mountains, there's a resort that's truly one of a kind: Tamarroon. Sophisticated yet welcoming, secluded but accessible, Tamarroon is renowned for its golf—but it's more. It offers a dozen other exhilarating things to do. Dramatic, inspiring, Tamarroon awaits you. Come discover Tamarroon soon.

When you come up here to play golf, a great course is just the beginning. The next plus is great instruction. The Tamarron Golf Institute offers you an individualized program of instruction designed to improve any skill level. It's conducted by experienced, personable golf professionals. The Institute, along with private lessons and group clinics, combines the latest technology with what we believe remains the most effective method of teaching golf: personalized, one-on-one instruction.

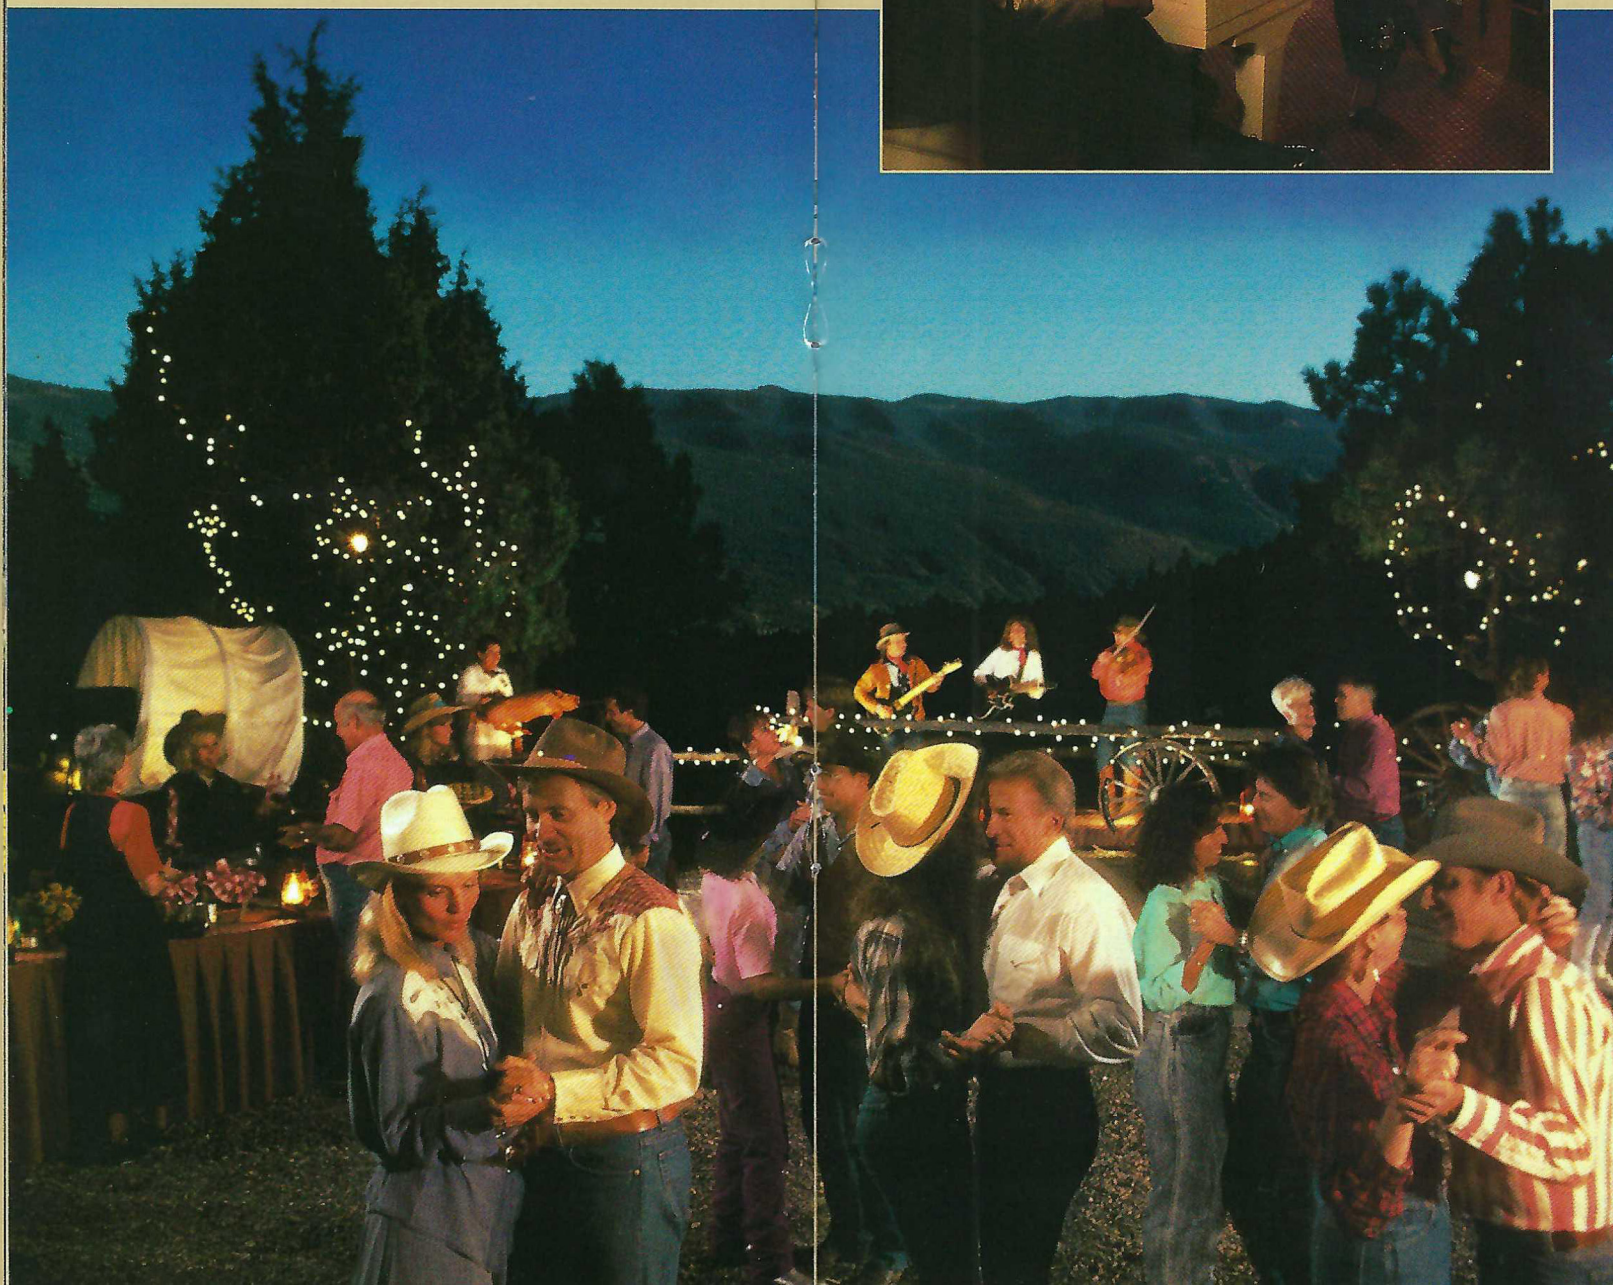

What can you do at Tamarron besides play outstanding golf? A lot. From our own on-site stables, you can ride horseback on trails that take you deep into the mountains, and along spectacular ridges that overlook Tamarron. White water raft down the Animas River or take a jeep tour up into the high country. Play tennis. Or swim, in our dramatically designed indoor-outdoor pool. Your little guys can join you on a hay ride and steak cookout. And they can share the fun and games of Tamarron's children's recreational program, The "ZOO CREW". All in all, there's something for everyone at Tamarron.

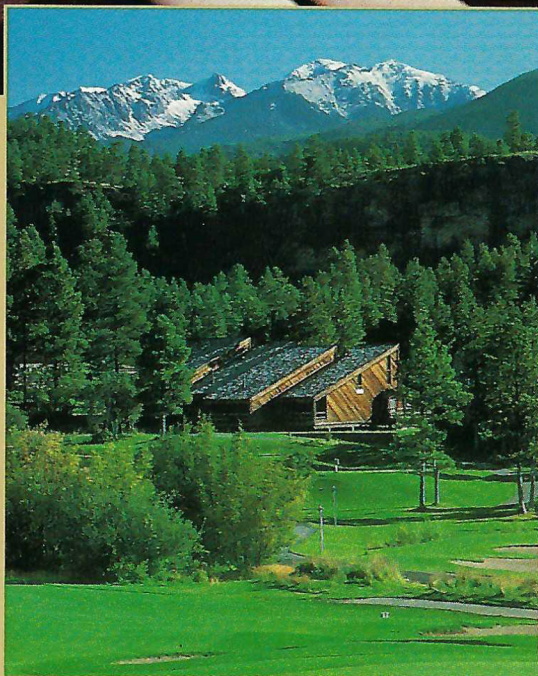

Memorable dining adds a delicious dimension to your visit, and at Tamarron we pride ourselves on it. Experience the finest continental cuisine in our elegant Le Canyon. Or go for the hearty, distinctive fare of the stylish yet casual San Juan Club. Our San Juan Lounge features your favorite cocktail plus lively entertainment. Or sit out and enjoy the view on the panoramic San Juan Terrace. And you and your kids both will go for the Caboose, featuring hot dogs, hamburgers and do-it-yourself ice cream sundaes. Whatever your taste, and whatever your mood, Tamarron is ready to indulge it.

Tamarron is a resort of dramatic contrasts. It's as spacious and wide-open as all outdoors. What, for instance, could be more appropriate to our Colorado setting than a Western cookout with mountains and stars as a backdrop? Or riding out for a great trail breakfast on a bright, cool mountain morning? Yet Tamarron can also be as intimate and private as just the two of you. Choose the way you want to enjoy Tamarron, and Tamarron, you'll find, will go right along.

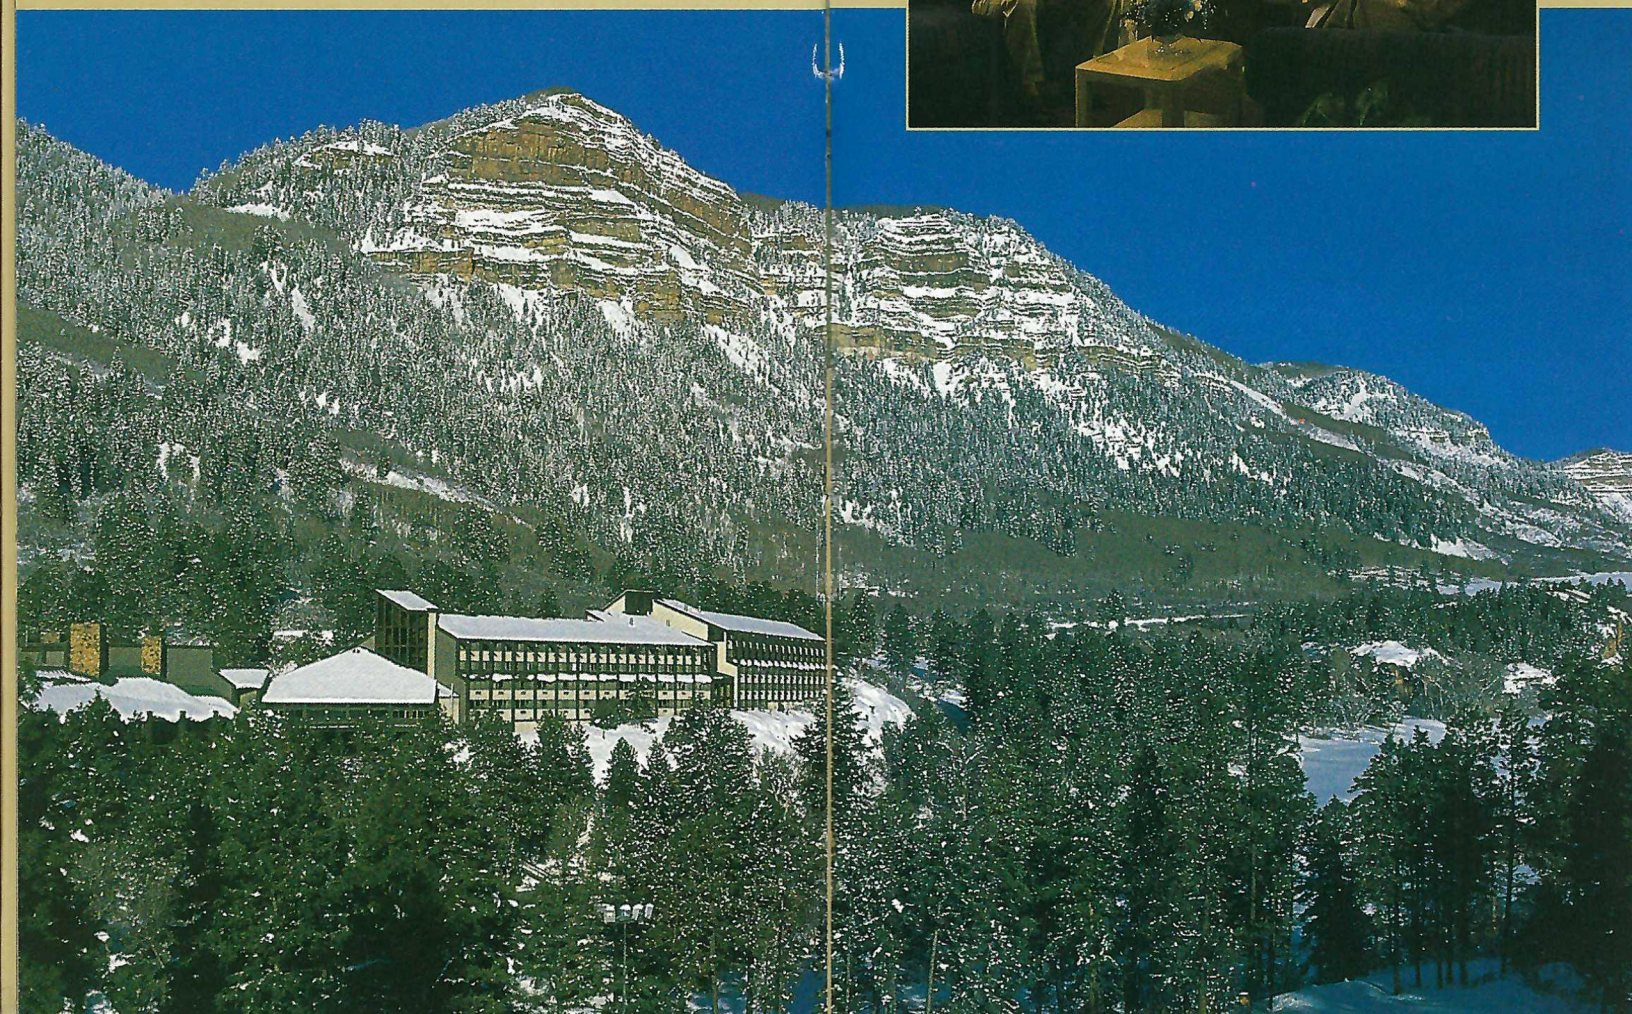

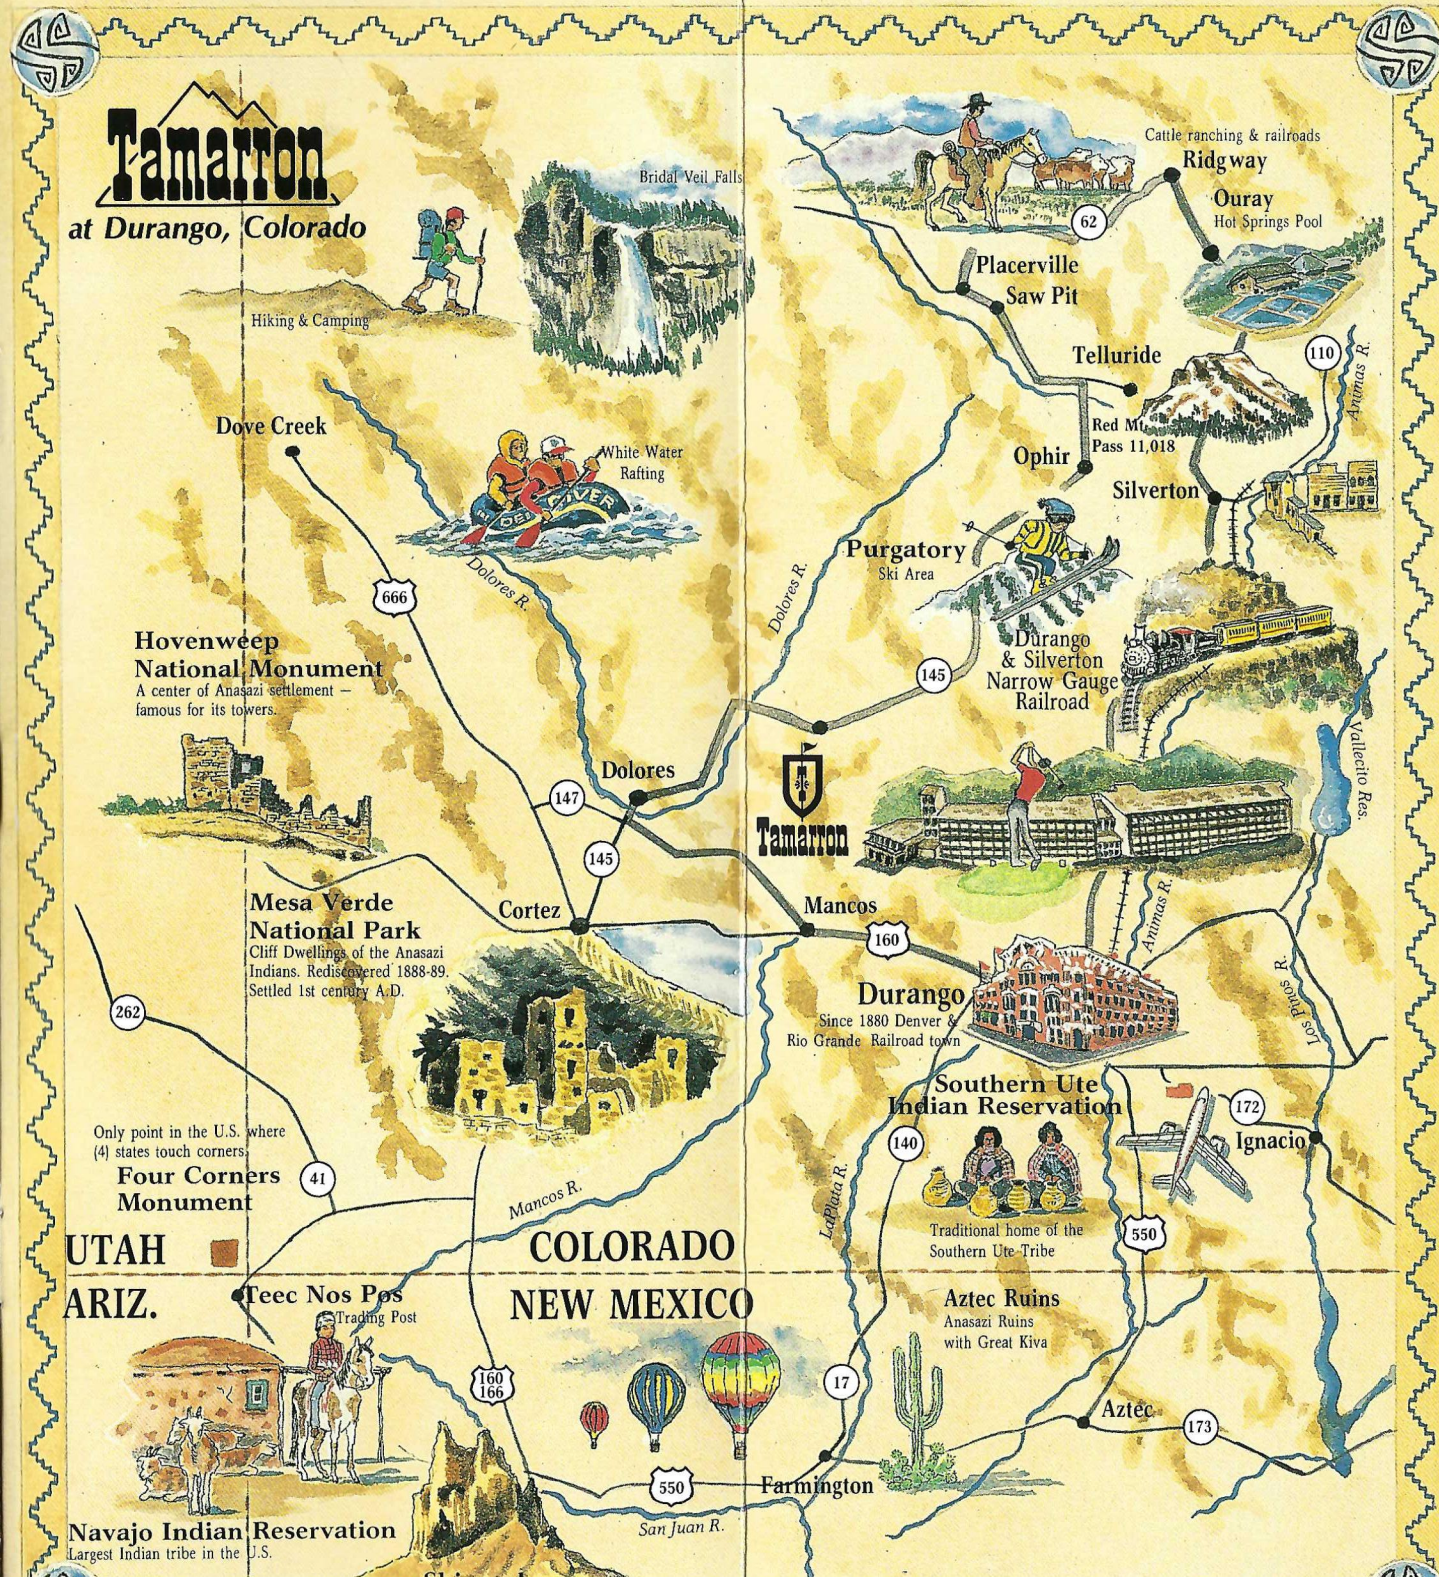

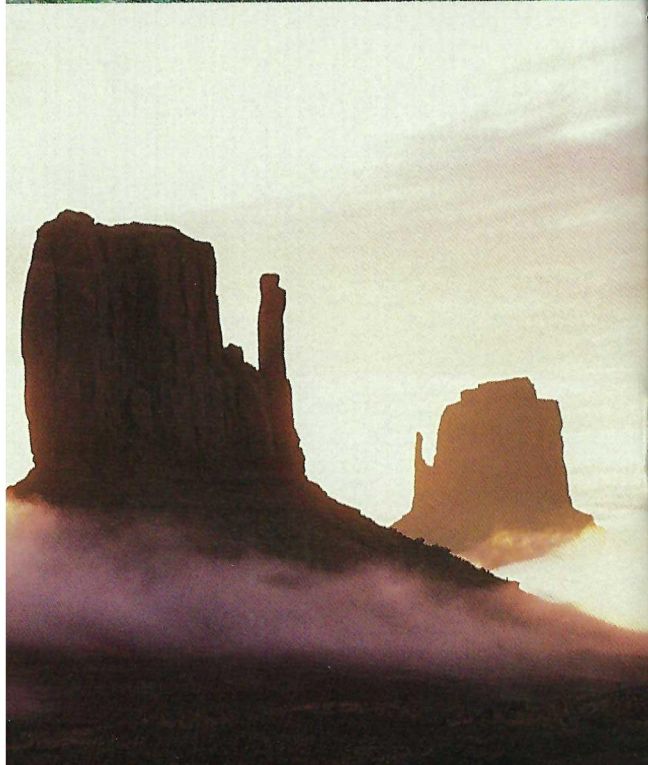

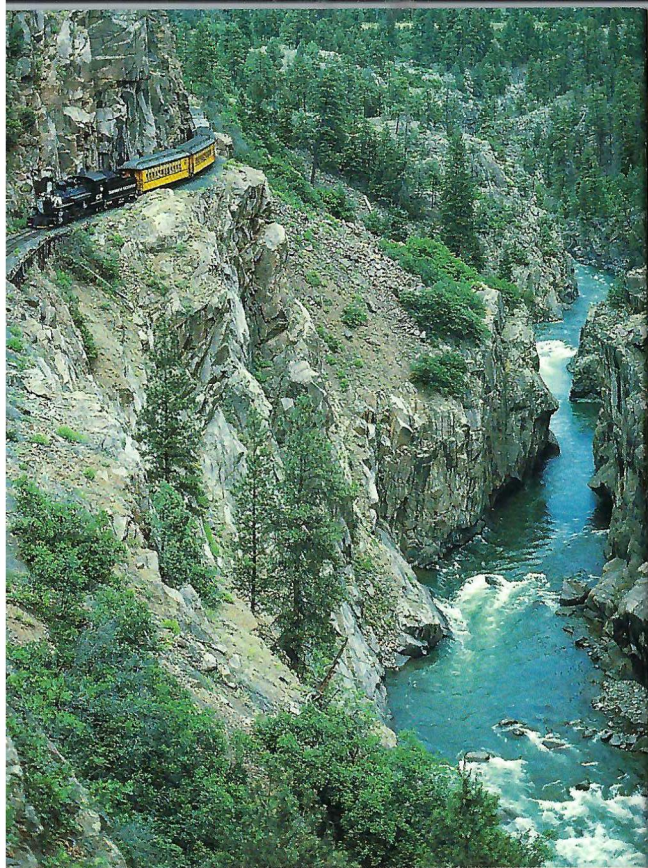

Tamarron's luxurious guest accommodations offer tremendous choice and style. Deluxe lodge units feature views of time-weathered buttes and cliffs of Hermosa limestone. Or choose a two- or three-bedroom suite with a balcony overlooking the valley. Here, your spacious surroundings are enriched with lofty timbers, hewn stone, and fabrics in warm colors and rustic textures. No matter which you choose, our accommodations will reward you with a warmth and comfort that are distinctly Tamarron's.

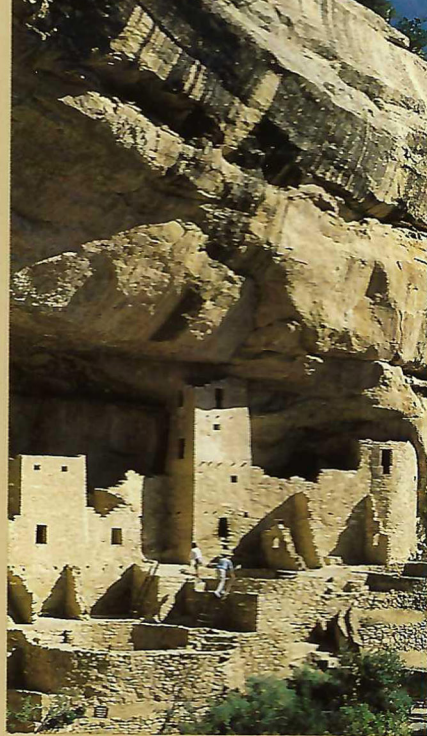

Beautiful Tamarron is a resort for all seasons. In the glorious Colorado spring, flowers carpet the meadows. Soon, our golf course opens and summer is in full swing. Fall is a pageant of color, the crisp air perfect for hikes in our mountains. And winter at Tamarron is a wonderland indeed. Our picturesque, horse-drawn sleighs jingle across the snow. Or take off cross-country skiing or snow-mobiling through magical mountain canyons — Tamarron is the perfect base. Nearby, the groomed, dramatic slopes and trails of Purgatory lure the downhill skier. And what finer après-ski rendezvous than Tamarron?

This is Four Corners Country. Here in the San Juan Mountains that form Tamarron's setting, there are more soaring 14,000-ft. peaks than in any other part of Colorado. This is definitely territory you'll want to explore. □ Drive out from Tamarron, and one awesome vista literally follows another. The famous San Juan Skyway loops through some of the most dramatic high country in the world. It climbs through Red Mountain Pass, at 11,075 feet. And it passes through towns whose very names are legend. Gorgeous, alpine Ouray, where Box Canyon Falls cascades into its plunging canyon. Silverton, the former notoriously rough-and-ready silver mining center, now a National Historic Landmark. Near Mancos, the Skyway also skirts the ancient and mysterious Anasazi cliff dwellings in Mesa Verde National Park—which you simply have to see. Another way, and a great one, to take in Tamarron's glorious mountain scenery is via the old-time, cliff-hanging Durango & Silverton Narrow Gauge Railroad, which was used to bring the ore down from Silverton. □ Durango itself offers a special fascination. It's replete with historic 18th- and 19th-century houses. Its restaurants are as richly varied and interesting as the town itself. And you can stroll and shop through authentic and surprisingly urbane art and sculpture galleries, featuring work by famed Native American artists. □ Travel to Durango is certainly easier than in days gone by. Tamarron is located 18 miles north of Durango. Fly direct to the new Durango air terminal from Denver, Phoenix and Albuquerque. Or drive via Route 550 and the Navajo Trail, Highway 160. No matter which you choose, Tamarron is easy to reach. And when you leave, it will be with memories that will make you want to return time and again.
